

Advarra Consulting

Consultation Without Confusion

US Company - Global Services

With clinical QA staff and qualified consultants located around the world, Advarra® Consulting has experience performing audits in numerous countries. The team is up-to-date on global regulations, laws, and guidelines affecting research development and helps clients navigate pertinent and relevant changes to these requirements. Each client works with an experienced, director-level staff member who is responsible for oversight of services, deliverables, and communications.

Advarra Consulting personnel's diverse clinical experience includes Phase I-IV clinical trials, post-marketing surveillance, and clinical practice. They have served as physicians, research nurses, study coordinators, project managers, clinical monitors, data reviewers, and auditors.
